Impressions and comments from dr. Vijay Karnad

I was able to contact Prof Ronco by email. He immediately gave me permission to visit his department. I must say that few of his status respond to emails. After arriving here I found that it is most up to date with equipment, net facility, library and dedicated organised staff working like a well oiled machine. The important feature is that all fellows are allowed to see the patients and equipment freely. I was able to see most procedures. Prof Ronco and Dr Brendolan especially spent valuable time in sorting out my queries. The friendly atmosphere pervades the whole hospital as I experienced it with Dr Piccini and others in the ICUs. The two secretaries, Ilaria and Anna, have been a great help. They are very sweet, capable and prompt. I would like other friends of mine to visit this beautiful place. I am very grateful to the whole department for all the love and affection offered to me. I feel it was worth all the effort. Wishing you all the very best in your future life. Finally, I take this opportunity to invite you to my India.
